

WALLS & ROOFS in Africa was introduced in 2000, and has since become a well-respected, high-quality, glossy trade publication which explores the full range of walling and roofing materials, construction and trends. With a lean and seasoned editorial and production team dedicated to providing quick, quality delivery for both their readership and advertisers, WALLS & ROOFS in Africa has gleaned rave reviews from architects, quantity surveyors and contractors, amongst others, who all use the magazine as an undisputed authority in the industry. Through innovation, editorial excellence and one of the best teams in the business, WALLS & ROOFS in Africa has become the most effective, market-leading specialist magazine in the industry, connecting specifiers with suppliers. Both WALLS & ROOFS and FLOORS are corporate members of the Pretoria Institute of Architects.
